Security

As we enter a new age of cyber security, future-proofed innovation and fortified security is more important than ever.

The horizon of threats continues to expand, and you require a proactive security solution that not only addresses today's challenges but is primed to tackle the complexities of tomorrow's digital landscape.

The Gallagher controllers are the cornerstone of our product range, and the Controller 7000 represents the beginning of a new era of Gallagher Security technology.

The next level of cyber protection

In a rapidly evolving digital age, following basic cyber hygiene is no longer enough – you need a solution that is prepared for tomorrow's cyber environment, today. With enhanced hardware and cybersecurity baked in from inception, the Controller 7000 is up for the challenge.

Making upgrades easier than ever

During the development of the Controller 7000, we listened to our customers, Channel Partners, and consultants to ensure upgrading is easier than ever. The C7000 has been purposely designed with the same footprint, wiring and ports as the Controller 6000, providing the power to take advantage of the newest technologies and easily scale as your business grows.

The platform for the future

The Controller 7000 marks the beginning of a new era and will pave the way for the future development of features and functionality for Gallagher. As a faster and more powerful device, the Controller 7000 has endless opportunities for growth, so we can continue to deliver value to you far into the future.
